Landscape Artist Of The Year Final

Stephen Mangan heads to Wales for the grand finale of Landscape Artist of the Year. Just three artists have made it through to the last round of the competition, where they're charged with capturing the weird and fantastical tourist village of Portmeirion. They'll be painting under the watchful eye of judges Tao Shan Schierenberg, Kate Bryan and Kathleen Soriano. The grand prize they're competing for is a £10,000 commission for Royal Museum's Greenwich to create a seascape inspired by the paintings of the Dutch Golden Age. So, with only four hours to create a masterpiece, who will become the next Sky Arts Landscape Artist of the Year?

Premier League

The Tottenham Hotspur Stadium hosts a Premier League London derby between two sides clinging to hopes of finishing in the top four. Big-spending Chelsea have had a season to forget, but a win over their capital city rivals will no doubt improve the mood of their supporters. Harry Kane scored a 90th-minute equaliser in a thrilling 2-2 draw when these two sides met at Stamford Bridge in August, a match which became famous for the fiery touchline bust-up between Antonio Conte and former Blues boss Thomas Tuchel. Expect plenty of passion when these two renew their rivalry on this Super Sunday.

The Arnold Palmer Invitational sees many of the world's top professional golfers descend on Bay Hill in Orlando, Florida for four days of high-class and unpredictable golf. Last year Scottie Scheffler claimed victory at this event, which would set him up to go on and win The Masters a month later. Rory McIlroy had been in contention for the title at Bay Hill heading into the final day, but endured a tough round after shooting a four-over-par 76 and finishing tied for 13th. Tiger Woods has won this event eight times with other recent winners including Bryson DeChambeau (2021) and Tyrrell Hatton (2020).
