Villeneuve Pironi: Racing's Untold Tragedy

Sky Original documentary VILLENEUVE PIRONI: RACING'S UNTOLD TRAGEDY tells the astonishing true story of two supremely gifted Ferrari F1® drivers: Gilles Villeneuve and Didier Pironi, forever torn apart by a historic and hugely controversial moment in time.

Through captivating archive footage, interviews with Formula One World Champions Jacques Villeneuve, Alain Prost and Sir Jackie Stewart, alongside the Villeneuve and Pironi families plus their F1 and Ferrari contemporaries the in-depth story of their rise to glory culminating in that infamous and tragic 1982 Formula One season is revealed.

In the midst of modern racing's most dangerous era, two daring Ferrari teammates were battling for the world championship, but at the San Marino Grand Prix, Pironi broke an unwritten team agreement, "stealing" victory from his teammate and close friend Villeneuve on the final lap.

VILLENEUVE PIRONI: RACING'S UNTOLD TRAGEDY is the story of two of the fastest racers in history, their brief and violent intertwined lives, and the emotional scars still felt today by their closest loved ones. Above all it is a life-affirming film that explores love, loss, and legacy, in a sport where passion overcomes fear.

a sky original*Drift: Partners in Crime*Season 1, episode 1 & 2

Ken Duken and Fabian Busch lead an incredible cast, playing an unequal pair of brothers and unexpected detective duo. Ali Zeller (Duken) and Leo Zeller (Busch) find themselves in their exhaustive search for the truth, travelling from the remote valleys of the Bavarian Alps, to the narrow street canyons of Athens, to the dry dirt tracks of the Peloponnese. Ali and Leo could not be more opposite. They rarely agree and think completely differently – despite this, the brothers share their childhood and work side by side. After a disastrous police operation, the siblings, who have been estranged for decades, find themselves at the centre of an international conspiracy and are forced to work as a team.

The Flash

Wednesday Ever After

Season 9, episode 1

After defeating the Reverse Flash once and for all, the ninth season of THE FLASH picks up one week later following their epic battle, and Barry Allen and Iris West-Allen are reconnecting and growing closer than ever before. But when a deadly group of Rogues descend on Central City led by a powerful new threat, The Flash and his team Caitlin Snow, Meta-Empath Cecile Horton, the light-powered meta Allegra Garcia, brilliant tech-nerd Chester P. Runk and reformed cryogenics thief Mark Blaine must once again defy impossible odds to save the day. But as The Rogues are defeated, a deadly new adversary rises to challenge Barry Allen's heroic legacy. And in their greatest battle yet, Barry and Team Flash will be pushed to their limits, in order to save Central City one last time. In the opening episode of the final season, Barry creates a map book to guide him and Iris throughout their future in order to keep her safe, but the results are not what he expected, and instead, they relive the same day over and over again. Joe has a heart-to-heart with Cecile. A new big bad is introduced to Team Flash and friends and foes, old and new, begin to descend upon Central City.

F1: Saudi Arabian Grand Prix

It's the second race of the 2023 Formula One season and we're heading to Jeddah for the third Saudi Arabian Grand Prix. Escaping the heat of the day by driving through the night, the Jeddah Corniche Circuit is as the 'fastest street track' on the Formula One calendar, with Formula One cars averaging around 250 km/h (160 mph), the track is the second longest on the Formula One calendar behind Circuit de Spa-Francorchamps in Belgium. Last year, the track marked Max Verstappen's first chequered flag in his dominant World Championship defence. With the only other driver to pick up a victory here being the seven-time World Champion Lewis Hamilton, can Sir Lewis throw down the gauntlet early on this season or is this just another step on Max's march to glory?

Dublin Narcos
The Untouchables

Part Three of Three

After the recession years, the mid-1990s sees the emergence of a new, thriving Ireland. The Celtic Tiger is born, and Dublin is at the heart of the transformation, with the city's streets seemingly paved with gold. Heroin thrived when times were bad, but now that times are good there's a new drug in town: cocaine. Glamorous, clean and seemingly harmless, it is the drug du jour for the city's new yuppies.

But it is far from harmless. The business is a lucrative one and deadly turf wars start to break out amongst the gangs supplying the city. A climate of paranoia and fear pervades and once more the police are trying to keep up with a new breed of criminal. Despite low-level arrests being made, the bosses at the top seem to operate with impunity.

Enter Veronica Guerin, a crime reporter for the Sunday Independent. As tenacious as she is fearless, Veronica starts to ask the questions and knock on the doors that no one has dared to before. And she devises a way to make the accusations stick – by following the money. She identifies the major players who are displaying huge wealth, while having no obvious source of income and writes about them. Her reporting, however, does not go unnoticed and she soon finds herself in the crosshairs of Dublin's most dangerous criminals.

The Abyss: Rise and Fall of the Nazis

Part 1 of 10

Europe in the 1920s and 1930s – a continent licks its wounds after the devastation of World War I. The Abyss: The Rise and Fall of the Nazis takes a fresh look at the Third Reich from a global and current perspective. It tells us how the Nazis conquered Germany and then half of Europe within a few years. How could that be, with the horrors of World War I still so fresh? Why did it take so long before they were stopped? A combination of previously unpublished archive material, historical sources and an international team of experts paint a new picture of Hitler's regime. The series unpacks the complex sequence of events that enabled the new regime and allowed violence and brutality to unfold on an unbelievable scale. A look at history with direct relevance to the world today.

Premier League

We've got a trio of huge matches this week, with vital matches on both ends of the table. We kick things off on Saturday as Chelsea host Everton. The Toffees are still in an uncomfortable position, just above the relegation zone, so a win at Stamford Bridge in a less than stellar season for the Blues will be an important step to staying in the top flight.

Then on Super Sunday, Brighton host Manchester United in the first of a double bill. The Seagulls are still in with a shot of a top five finish, while United have a loftier goal of surprising the top three with a late rush and winning their first league title in twenty years. Stranger things have, happened, but it will require a flawless performance here.

And finally, we cap off the weekend as the reigning league champions host West Ham. As City continue to chase down current league leaders Arsenal, the Hammers are in serious trouble down in the bottom three. It's a high stakes game for both teams, but for the most different of reasons.
