Dreamland

Series 1, episode 1

Set in the sun-drenched British seaside town of Margate, it is a dark comedic exploration of multi-generational female relationships, and their (somewhat dysfunctional) family dynamics.

Eldest sister Trish (Freema Agyeman) is pregnant for the third time with her partner Spence (Kiell Smith- Bynoe). And this time, she's decided: it's going to be a girl. Her two sisters Clare (Gabby Best) and Leila (Aimee-Ffion Edwards) rally around her with their mum (Frances Barber) and their Margate- legend nan (Sheila Reid), "manifesting" a little girl at Trish's 'mani-festival'. But when their other sister, Mel (Lily Allen), makes an unexpected reappearance back into their lives, her return threatens to destabilise the entire family. A knock on their door and their 'Dreamland' is no more...

Chasing the Rains

Part 1 of 4

Filmed beyond the jagged peaks of Mount Kenya, in the great rangelands of the north, the series begins at the end of the long rains, when river valleys, plains and mountains are flushed with new growth. Water is the lifeblood of this sprawling landscape and all life here dances to the tune of the rains. Many months or sometimes years pass before a drop of rain falls so all species must learn to survive these droughts which are increasing in intensity due to climate change. Episodes feature heroic cheetah mother Kuleta defending her precious cubs against attacks from rival predators; a rare wild dog pack battling a vicious hyena clan in a quest for food and water; and Samburu elephant herds using intelligence and resilience to locate water for their families. The series will also feature the stories of the nomadic people who live on these lands and share resources with the wildlife. Narrated by Bridgerton's Adjoa Andoh.

The Portable Door

What: Fantasy, Adventure, Comedy (2023, Sky PG)

Who: Christoph Waltz, Sam Neil, Patrick Gibson, Sophie Wilde, Miranda Otto

Director: Jeffrey Walker

Paul Carpenter (Patrick Gibson) and Sophie Pettingel (Sophie Wilde) are the lowly, put-upon interns who begin working at the mysterious London firm J.W. Wells & Co. and become steadily aware that their employers are anything but conventional. Charismatic villains Humphrey Wells (Christoph Waltz), the CEO of the company, and middle manager Dennis Tanner (Sam Neill) are disrupting the world of magic by bringing modern corporate strategy to ancient magical practices, and Paul and Sophie discover the true agenda of the vast corporation where they work.

The Masters

Golf fans rejoice. The first major of 2023 is coming. We're heading to Augusta National once again as the greatest golfers in the world vie for the Green Jacket. Last year, the United States' Scottie Scheffler won his first major championship, defeating Rory McIlroy by three strokes. With both McIlroy and current World number one Jon Rahm in great form and pursuing their first wins at Augusta, it's going to be an exciting tournament.

Gonzo: The Life and Work Of Hunter S Thompson

This stylized documentary uses journalist Hunter S. Thompson's own words, his home movies, interviews with his fans and critics and passionate narration by Johnny Depp to give some insight into the writer's process and edgy genius. Director Alex Gibney explores Thompson's life from the mid-1960s to the mid-1970s, when he was at the height of his creative powers. Gibney traces the beginnings of Thompson's gonzo journalism style and recounts his most infamous drug- and alcohol-induced exploits.

Looting History

Season 1, episode 1

Looting History is an investigation into how the trade in stolen antiquities and art has become a major source of income for criminal syndicates, gangs, and terrorists across the globe. Precious ancient treasures torn out of the ground. Priceless art ripped from walls. It's a modern tragedy, as the grandest of mankind's achievements are reduced to little more than commodities.

Using a different case study, each episode looks at how and why everybody from Islamic State to the Chinese Triads have muscled in on the act, and why international law enforcement agencies are determined to shut it down.

Premier League

The games are coming thick as fast as we race towards the end of the 2022/23 Premier League season, with five massive games exploding onto your screens this week.

Settle in for the Saturday evening game between Chelsea and Aston Villa, with the two teams, perhaps surprisingly, holding up the middle of the Premier League table. Chelsea have had a nightmare season, while Villa have had a steady season and could leapfrog the blues into the top half of the table with a win at Stamford Bridge.

Then it's on to Super Sunday, kicking things off with a lower table clash between West Ham and Southampton. The Hammers are far from safe this season, just a single point above the drop zone, while the Saints are desperately trying to claw their way from the bottom following a dire series of matches. A win at West Ham for either team could make all the difference. Then, we head back up the table for a grudge match between Newcastle and Manchester United. The Reds were looking like dark horses in the title race before their shocking 7-0 defeat at Anfield, while the Magpies need to get back into the race for a top five finish after a run of disappointing results.

Then into the week, we have a Monday Night Football battle as Spurs travel to Everton. Tottenham too have had some disappointing games of late and are fighting to keep their European hopes alive, while the Toffee's situation is even more urgent as they fight to avoid relegation from the top flight for the first time. And we close things off on Tuesday night as Chelsea take on their second match of the week, this time hosting a Liverpool side looking to turn around a relatively mediocre season with the momentum from their aforementioned thrashing of Man United. It's a week that football fans dream of!

F1: Australian Grand Prix

It's the big question... are you going to try and get up for this one? We hit the third race of the season as the F1 season heads to the other side of the planet for the Australia Grand Prix in Melbourne.

At time of writing we're one race down in the season and World Champion Max Verstappen and the Red Bull team have already laid claim to a third victorious season. The race last year was not favourable to Max, however, as he was forced to retire due to a fuel leak, leaving Ferrari's Charles Leclerc to pick up the chequered flag. Can Leclerc recover from his terrible luck with technical failures to get back into the race? Or can former World Champion Fernando Alonso follow through on an amazing start to the season and stage the biggest comeback in F1 history? Or will this simply be another formality for the dominating Red Bull team? Whatever the case, you won't want to miss it.
